

Please don't weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. The attempt of the Consumer Bankers Association to change the law should be denied, as there is no good reason for the law to be changed. Bank customers have more than adequate access over the phone and internet without the banks calling us.